Proves Electric Engines Will Work in Space

By VERN HAUGLAND

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)

The United States proved today that small electric engines capable of developing speeds between 100,000 and 200,000 miles an hour and designed for future interplanetary flights can work successfully in space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration launched two small electric rocket engines on a flight looping some 1,500 miles aloft, on a trip of almost an hour that ended in the Atlantic 2,000 miles east of here.

During the flight one of the two ion engines operated successfully for half an hour, turning on and off several times.

The other developed a short circuit from high voltage.

Until very recently many scientists have considered it impossible to start and operate an ion engine in space.

The scientists from NASA's Lewis Research Center, Cleveland, Ohio, in charge of today's SERT 1 experiment—so named for space electric rocket test—were elated at the results.

Information radioed back from the space capsule was so clear and complete and favorable that the scientists were able to report within an hour that all had gone very well.

"It was an extremely successful flight," said Raymond J. Rulis, SERT 1 project manager at Lewis.

"All our technical objectives were achieved."

Rulis said the prime objective was to determine whether ion engines, which produce thrust by creating and accelerating positively charged particles or ions of propellant, would work in actual use.

They have operated successfully in the vacuum chambers at Cleveland, but no one could be sure they would do so far above the earth.

An ion electric rocket can work in space only if the positive ion exhaust beam can be neutralized effectively.

The scientists succeeded in doing this by injecting a stream of negatively charged electrons into the engine exhaust.

The 72-foot tall Scout rocket, 40,000 pounds of fuel and metal, blasted off at 8:53 a.m.

The ion engines were housed in the rocket's nose.

Withdrawal of Wallace Could Be More Helpful to Sen. Goldwater Than to Johnson

EDITOR'S NOTE—Jack Bell, veteran Associated Press political writer, rounds up the major weekend political developments and analyzes the significance of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's withdrawal as a non-dependent candidate for president.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace's abandonment of an independent presidential effort invited Sen. Barry Goldwater today to pursue an all-the-way conservative drive against President Johnson.

When Wallace announced Sunday he was giving up the effort to get his name on presidential ballots in 16 or more states, he removed a serious obstacle to Goldwater's chances of carrying several Southern states in the November battle with Johnson.

Wallace appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

The action offered the Republican presidential nominee some possible rewards in Dixie, if he maintains his conservative course, that would have to be weighed against what he might gain elsewhere if he yielded to intra-party pressure to swing toward the middle of the road.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the vice presidential nominee, indicated he would like to see some overtures to the party's moderates and liberals in the Northern industrial states.

It would bring them around to active support of the "national ticket."

But Miller said in response to questions on NBC's "Meet the Press" that failure to get the backing of such men as Sen. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey "won't be fatal."

Goldwater said in Phoenix, Ariz., he thinks he will do well in New York and Pennsylvania in November.

Miller said he favors a summit meeting of Republican leaders of all shades of opinion to canvass the prospects for the campaign and to give their advice on strategy.

Goldwater, who returns to Washington today after a week-end in Phoenix, said during the California primary campaign in June he intended to call such a session. He has not mentioned it since his nomination.

The Arizona senator said "conferences that I will have nothing to do with" will go on during the next two weeks to "plan the type of campaign we will conduct."

Asked who would attend, he replied: "The academic types, the engineer types and the political types."

Goldwater said that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had promised to campaign for him and would tell him soon how many speaking appearances "he could stand."

He said he hopes Eisenhower will be able to campaign with "a half dozen to a dozen speeches."

Goldwater expressed surprise at Wallace's decision to quit his independent presidential movement but did not comment further.

In Austin, Tex., White House press secretary George Reedy said: "Gov. Wallace is entitled to any decision he wishes to make."

Goldwater Not Bothered by British Attack

By ROB WOOD

Associated Press Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater left his home state today for Washington with a brief comment on an attack made against him Sunday by an English clergyman.

When informed of statements made at St. Paul's Cathedral in London by Canon John Collins, Goldwater said, "What the English do is up to them. They've tried on occasion to tell us how to run our government. We resist their interference."

"He (Canon Collins) can't do this in this country, so I think I'm safe."

Collins, a politically active Anglican canon, called on the Pope, the Archbishop of Canterbury and other church leaders to condemn Goldwater's policies.

He called the Arizona senator's policies "utterly repugnant to Christian consciences," and said his nomination was part of a "growing resurgence of the fascist mentality" many parts of the world.

Goldwater was to land first at Chicago, where, press aides said, a reception was planned.

The senator said he hoped to return to Arizona in August, and "I told Peggy (his wife) on the way out here that if we take a vacation maybe we ought to go to Phantom Ranch."

"It's kind of hard to get there."

Phantom Ranch is located at the bottom of the Grand Canyon in northern Arizona and is accessible only by muleback or afloat.

Goldwater was given a goodbye kiss by his wife at the airport entrance where a few friends waited to shake his hand.

He chatted with newsmen about the good trout fishing in Arizona and suggested the next time out reporters take a little time off to see if they could hook some trout.

Meanwhile, Goldwater, counting on an active campaign boost from former President Eisenhower, is setting his political counselors to work on battle plans for the race against President Johnson.

Congress Back With a Very Full Schedule

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress reconvenes today to tackle a mountain of major legislation—much of it highly controversial—in the partisan atmosphere of a between-conventions session of a presidential campaign year.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader, opened a drive to clear the remainder of President Johnson's "must" program before the Democrats meet at Atlantic City Aug. 24.

First on the Senate calendar was a bill to ease pay restriction for federal civilian employment of part-time workers and retired regular military officers, and a measure to increase the pay scales of almost all military personnel.

The House planned only a routine session, putting off all legislative business until Tuesday.

In the month ahead, the Senate faces hot debate on such legislation as the $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill, a $662.5-million antipoverty program and other proposals.

Under the circumstances, Mansfield offered no guarantee that Congress could finish its work before the Democratic convention.

But, appealing to colleagues in both parties to hold partisan infighting to a minimum, he said it can be done if members of both parties apply themselves with diligence "and leave the political take-off and campaign oratorical flights until later."

"If Congress does not finish its work by then, he said, 'we will be here in September and on to December if necessary.'"

One of the first big fights looms on announced efforts by a Democrat—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon—to cut at least $465,000 from the $3,466,700,000 foreign aid authorization bill slated for action this week.

President Johnson listed 30 must bills in a news conference June 23. Senate and House, showing unusual speed, already have sent eight of these to the White House.

Both houses have passed four of the other bills and are expected to reach compromises on them sometime this week.

These are a $546-million military construction measure and a bill setting allocations for the federal aid to highway programs.

2 Men Come to Defense of Harris

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Two Magnolia men and an El Dorado man have denied charges that Rep. Oren Harris D-Ark. used his influence to secure a license for television Channel 10 at El Dorado.

Dean Murphy, a Hope business man who opposes Harris for the 4th District representative's seat, has said Harris was financially involved in the station and used influence to obtain the channel for personal gain.

Dr. Joe Rushton and W. M. Bigley of Magnolia and W. N. McKinney of El Dorado, placed advertisements in 4th District newspapers Sunday denying the charges.

Rushton and Bigley said Murphy's charges were "misleading, irresponsible and false."

Murphy issued a statement Sunday night saying that Rushton and Bigley have attempted to "whitewash" Harris' involvement in the station.

At the same time Murphy said he wanted to "make it plain that neither McKinney nor any of his associates were involved in the issue."

"At the very least," Murphy said, "Oren Harris is guilty of a conflict of interest in being part owner of a television station while chairman of the Commerce Committee which regulates the broadcast industry."

Murphy said he did not consider a "whitewash attempt" by other parties as any answer to his charges.

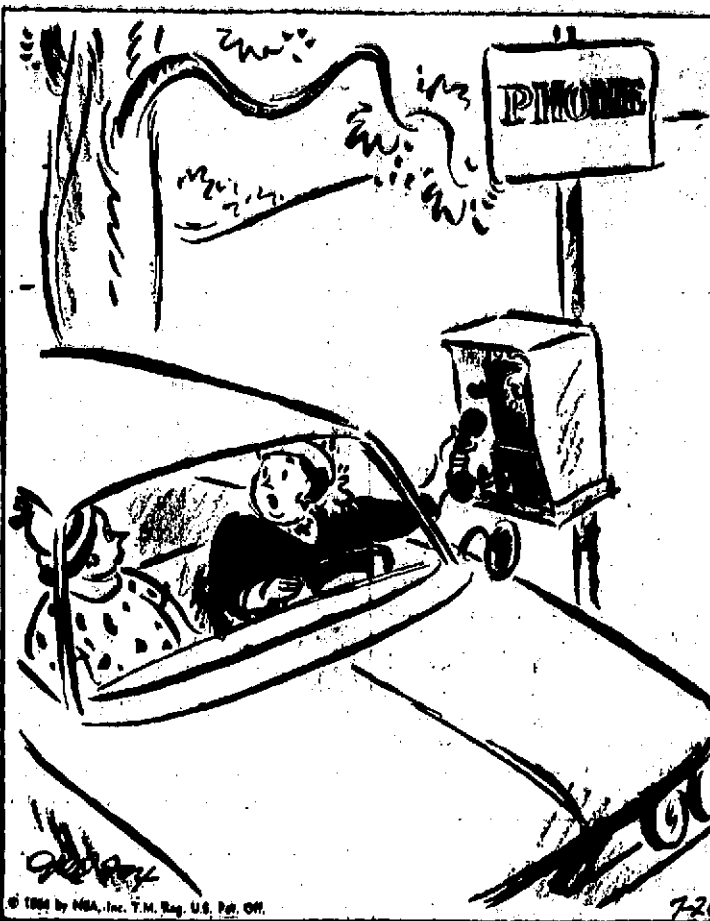

On several occasions in political speeches Murphy has asked three questions of Harris. They were: "How much did he (Harris) pay for his interest in the station? How much did he sell his interest for? Why did he sell his interest on the eve of a Congressional investigation?"

"I want Oren Harris to answer the questions and I want his answers on record," Murphy said.

McKinney said in a letter which appeared in the ad that he and the late Col. T. H. Barton had been encouraged by Harris to apply for the channel when it was allocated to El Dorado.

The application was with drawn, McKinney said, after it was learned that the area covered by the El Dorado station and Co. Barton's Little Rock station, KARKTV, would overlap.

Ownership of overlapping service in both radio and television is prohibited by the Federal Communications Commission.

Rushton was among a group of persons who got the original allocation for the channel.

Withdrawal Clears Scene Politically

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gubernatorial candidate Winthrop Rockefeller said Sunday night that Alabama Gov. George Wallace's decision to drop out of the presidential race "eliminates one more bit of confusion from the political scene and that probably won't hurt anyone."

State GOP chairman William Spicer of Fort Smith said he believed Wallace's action would "greatly enhance" the position of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Republican nominee for president.

Spicer, a strong backer of Goldwater, said he was pleased that Wallace had withdrawn but said the Alabama governor had been exemplifying many of the policies advocated by Goldwater.

Amos Guthridge, president of Little Rock's Capital Citizens' Council, said Wallace's action did not disappoint him at all.

"I'm for Gov. Wallace, I'll follow his leadership," Guthridge said. "Gov. Wallace undoubtedly has made a tremendous impact on bringing good sense and fairness back to our federal government."

He added: "Under no circumstances would I vote for Lyndon Johnson. I am a great admirer of candidate Barry Goldwater."

L. C. Bates, Arkansas field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, would not comment on Wallace's action.

Wallace said he hadn't made up his mind whom he would support until after he sees the Democratic platform to be drafted at Atlantic City, N.J., next month.

Asked if he and Goldwater would welcome Wallace's support, the vice presidential nominee replied, "I don't think so, he's a Democrat." He said he welcomes the support of anyone who accepts the GOP platform but added he understands Wallace was dissatisfied with its civil rights plank.

He said it was difficult to assess the impact of Wallace's withdrawal, since the governor would have taken votes from Johnson in some states and from Goldwater in others.

In Augusta, Ga., Roy V. Harris, former state legislator and a campaign worker for Wallace, said he will organize a "Democrats for Goldwater" movement in the state.

The Wallace electors in Alabama are pledged not to vote for a Republican but on the other hand are not pledged to vote for a Democrat.

Miller was asked to explain what Goldwater meant when he said in his acceptance address that extremism in defense of liberty is no vice and that moderation in pursuit of justice is no virtue.

The vice presidential nominee replied that Goldwater was talking about "wholehearted devotion to the cause of freedom."

The presidential nominee, Miller said, meant that he was opposed to "half-hearted" support of justice.

Friday before this conference, Eisenhower said Goldwater's statement "would seem to say that the end always justifies the means." He added that "the whole American system refutes that idea and that concept."

Miller indicated he thought Eisenhower regarded Goldwater's subsequent explanation as satisfactory.

Goldwater was asked to clarify the acceptance address statement that "history demonstrates that nothing prepares the way for tyranny more than the failure of public officials to keep the streets safe from bullies or marauders."

"I intend," he replied, "to set an example at the federal level. The president has no responsibility at the local level but he can set an example. We can see that the federal judges are of the highest quality. If they don't follow the law, there is always removal for cause."

Starvation Is Common in India

By DAN COGGIN

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A boy squats in the dust and taunts an ant with a stick. The ant races about frantically, and the lad smiles on his unwilling playmate.

This might be a glimpse of a child at play in the United States but the differences are sharp and clear.

The boy is dirty, sickly and the rags he wears leave his emaciated frame half-naked. He plays in a dusty narrow strip between two dilapidated buildings, smelly and littered with filth.

Home is a tattered tarpaulin stretched between the buildings. It's all he knows. Here he was born, here he lives and, here or in some other squalid place he probably will die.

Born an untouchable, the lowest caste in India's social system, the boy's prospects of a brighter future are virtually nil. It takes all his father can make as a sweeper to keep the family alive. Money for an education is out of the question.

Even for this urchin things could have been worse. He could have fallen into the hands of professional beggars who would have maimed him in infancy to stir sympathy among alms givers. Such sights are not uncommon in this ancient civilization still struggling toward the industrial revolution.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's Socialist government is trying to better the lot of India's downtrodden, but what could any regime do right away, today, when 356 million of its 465 million people are illiterate, when five million of its citizens are utterly homeless?

The grim, grinding poverty engulfing India's masses makes a stark impression because it is so inescapably widespread and tightly woven into the fabric of Indian life.

Bizarre contrasts result: A destitute family lives in a ditch beneath the wall around a rich man's magnificent mosque. Gaunt men sweat to pull overloaded carts while shiny little cars weave in and out of traffic.

Barefooted women workers at a construction site take bricks off a Western-built truck and balance a dozen on their heads as they walk to a wall going up. A well-fed Indian businessman shows a stray bullock off the lawn of his comfortable cottage.

The Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 ceded Cape Breton Island to France. King Louis XV decided to erect a great fortress there to command the straits leading into the St. Lawrence.

Government sources said the prosecutor's office, which obtained the warrant, probably will investigate Hong without arresting him.

Orders Votes Against Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Democratic Negro Voters Association has sent letters to its members asking them not to vote for Gov. Orval E. Faubus, it was revealed by I. S. McClinton, association president.

The letter said that Faubus, by greeting Alabama Gov. George Wallace at a White Citizens Council meeting in Little Rock and by his refusal to see civil rights representatives of President Johnson, has made his extremist views "crystal clear."

The letter said the association would not endorse any candidate in the gubernatorial campaign. The association has a membership of 4,000 persons, McClinton said.

More Nuclear Detector Satellites

By HOWARD BENEDICT

A.P. Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Atomic Energy Commission scientists plan more sophisticated nuclear detection satellites to follow a pair maneuvered into patrol positions 65,000 miles above the earth over the weekend.

Sentry Satellite No. 2 was jockeyed into position Sunday when a radio signal from the ground shifted it out of a great elliptical orbit onto a circular path in which the high and low points are about the same.

A companion satellite was fired into a similar orbit Friday night. The twin watchdogs are traveling about 100,000 miles apart as they scan more than 20 million miles of space in search of illicit nuclear explosions.

The sentries are forerunners of a network of operational stations intended to police the limited nuclear test ban treaty. The treaty, signed last year by more than 100 nations, forbids nuclear testing in the atmosphere, under water and in space.

The satellites were in a bundle of three launched from Cape Kennedy Friday by a single Atlas-Agena rocket. The third satellite, a 45-pound "pygmy," continues on the elliptical course ranging from 120 to 65,000 miles high. It is measuring electrons in the Van Allen radiation belt.

The sentries joined two others orbited in a similar triple shot last October.

Work is under way on a third pair of experimental vehicles scheduled for launching in several months. The reportedly will carry optical devices to monitor not only space nuclear

Judy Treated for Wrist Injuries

LONDON (AP) — Judy Garland was treated at a London hospital today for injuries to her wrists.

The 42-year-old actress and singer was discharged several hours after her admission to St. Stephen's Hospital, Chelsea.

A hospital statement said she was "suffering from minor injuries to her wrists."

After she was discharged, the hospital said Miss Garland had requested it not to disclose here whereabouts.

Miss Garland arrived in London three weeks ago with Mark Herron, an American actor with whom she was reported to have gone through a Chinese marriage ceremony in Hong Kong last month.

She said she would be in London several weeks on a vacation.

The singer was rushed to a Hong Kong hospital in a coma in May. Her personal physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, flew from Hollywood and reported she was suffering from pleurisy, the "aftermath" of a coma of unknown origin.

Her sudden illness followed a stormy Australian concert tour. Herron said she was exhausted. Miss Garland left the hospital June 1 and recuperated in Hong Kong.

A spokesman for her agent in London said he did not know how Miss Garland hurt her wrists.

Ship Held 5 Hours by Russians

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

PORT SAID, U.A.R. (AP) — The captain of a U.S. freighter which took American grain to the Soviet Union says armed Soviet sailors commandeered his ship in international waters and held it for five hours.

"I was ordered off my own bridge at gunpoint," Capt. Arthur H. Fertig told reporters Sunday after docking here. "We were treated like animals."

He said the Russians fired warning cannon volleys over his ship, boarded it, confined the crew to quarters and conducted a search.

The incident occurred last Wednesday outside the Black Sea port of Novorossiysk after Fertig refused to pay what he considered an excessive charge for unloading the cargo.

His ship, the tanker Sister Katingo, had unloaded 32,000 tons of American grain. Fertig said the payment procedure had been guaranteed by a U.S.-Soviet agreement.

The seizure followed 20 tense days which came to a head when Fertig chose to pay stevedores $3 per hour per man for unloading the cargo. The Russians demanded 50 cents a ton.

Fertig, 44, of Wading River, N.Y., said his ship was halted by Soviet patrol boats outside the harbor and ordered to return to port, but he refused.

The Russians searched the ship thoroughly, then let her leave after Fertig signed a long-hand statement in Russian which was not translated to him.

Fertig and Chief Officer Daniel Jamieson both said they saw the American wheat they delivered being loaded on a Soviet ship for transport to Cuba.

"We learned from Soviet sailors that the grain was going to Cuba," Jamieson said.

In Washington, the United States announced Friday night it had made an oral protest to the Soviet Union for what it called excessive behavior.

But U.S. authorities conceded that "under international law Soviet authorities may have been within strictly legal rights in the particular circumstances."

Mrs. Hester Wares was killed early Thursday morning. Officers said before she died Mrs. Wares told of being robbed and described her assailants.

Howard said four of the youths were arrested in connection with the other in Mississippi. The four arrested at Little Rock were arraigned Sunday night before Little Rock Municipal Judge John L. Sullivan. They were returned immediately to Pine Bluff.

Their names were withheld pending filing of charges in Jefferson County. Howard said two of the suspects are 17-years-old, one is 19 and two are 22.

Death Comes to 8 in State by Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of eight persons in a car-train accident near Dermott Saturday swelled the total Arkansas fatality count during the weekend to 14.

The Associated Press survey ending at midnight showed nine persons died in traffic accidents, four drowned and one was fatally shot.

The family of eight died when their car was struck by a Missouri Pacific freight train at a crossing near Jerome, nine miles south of Dermott.

State Trooper Gen Mabry identified the victims as Horace Harbour, 37, of Warren; his wife, Mary, 34, and their children, Horace, Jr., 11; Susie, 9; Johnnie Albert, 7; Danny, 5; Carey, 3, and a six-month-old baby whose name was not known.

Mabry said the car, apparently driven by Harbour, asw knocked 120 feet down the tracks and overturned several times. All but two of the victims were thrown from the car, he said.

Five of them were killed instantly and the other three died at a Dermott hospital.

Ray Awalt, 30, of Clarksville, drowned Sunday while fishing in the Arkansas River, one mile east of Dardenne. Companions said Awalt was wading near the bank and apparently stepped in to a hole.

Ervin Oliver, about 17, a Negro of the Pastoria community 15 miles northwest of Pine Bluff drowned Saturday while swimming in the Arkansas River at Pine Bluff.

A companion said Oliver swam from an area of calm water into the swift current and was sucked under.

A boy and girl drowned in the Arkansas River near Scranton Sunday.

Mrs. Jossie Black, 73, of Memphis, was killed when a freight train struck a stalled car at a crossing near Marion. State Trooper William Sinyard said occupants of the car had gotten out after it stalled, but the impact of the wreck threw the auto into Mrs. Black.

She was tossed into a ditch and killed, Sinyard said.

Mrs. Helen Gurlough, 38, a Negro of Strong, was fatally shot late Sunday and her husband, Monroe Furlough, 73, arrested in connection with the incident.

Deputy Sheriff Tommy Daniels said the shooting occurred in the yard of the couple's home following an argument over a television set being turned on.

Deputy Coroner Ferrell Grisham said two of the 21 children in the family witnessed the shooting. Mrs. Furlough was shot once in the chest with a .22 caliber rifle, Daniels said.

Some hotel clerks are so snooty to guests they think they're complying with the public accommodations bill by letting them in.

LBJ Claims Concern Over Extremists

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's public condemnation of "clandestine hate organizations" will be followed by legal maneuvers to expose those he has accused of fomenting terror, violence and savagery.

An administration source said today evidence is being gathered by federal authorities to use against those who, in Johnson's words, try to "force, bully and intimidate" Negroes from claiming their constitutional rights.

There have been reports of a resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan in parts of the Deep South. Johnson, although declining to say whether he specifically had the Klan in mind, told a Saturday news conference at his Texas Ranch:

"Some of the factual reports which I read daily have recently given me cause for concern regarding organized violence by small groups who mask their identity."

"I condemn as do most Americans the use of violence and terror by clandestine hate organizations."

Johnson's reference to those who "mask their identity" seemed calculated. Members of the Klan wear white sheets and hoods.

The President flew back to Washington late Sunday night after spending the weekend at his ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

Johnson faces a busy schedule of official meetings this week with the prime ministers of New Zealand and Malaysia, with Latin American foreign ministers, and with leaders of business and labor.

One White House official, who declined to be identified by name, told newsmen before the President's departure from Texas that Johnson fears "overheated discussion" of economic policy during the election campaign might undermine prosperity.

Addressing about 50 persons during an open house at his Little Rock headquarters, Dorsey said: "This is not my prediction. This is what you, the people, have told me—this is what you have shown me."

Several hundred persons slipped fruit punch and ate cookies at the campaign headquarters.

Travs Take Twin Bill to Add to Lead

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The

Arkansas Travelers, helped along by Adolfo Phillips' 19th and 20th home runs of the season, swept a Pacific Coast League doubleheader from the Salt Lake Bees Sunday night, 5-0 and 4-2.

Phillips' home run with Alex Johnson on board in the fourth inning of the second game provided the difference for the Eastern Division leaders.

The Travelers got their first run in the second inning when Phillips singled, stole second and came home when Bee second baseman Paul Popovich slipped retrieving a throwing error of catcher Lou Holdener.

Another single by Phillips and a double by Bill Heath in the sixth inning accounted for Arkansas' fourth run.

Jesse White scored the Bees' two runs. He singled in the third, stole second and came in on Glen Beckert's line drive to right field.

White singled again in the fifth inning, went to second on an infield out and was brought home by Billy Ott's single.

Home runs by Phillips and Norm Gigon and Gary Kroll's three-hit pitching helped Arkansas to its victory in the first game.

Arkansas opened scoring in the first game when Gigon scored on a double in the first inning by Wayne Graham. Graham went home when Phillips

HE'S OVERDOING IT!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: How does a father tell his daughter's fiancé that he hangs around her house entirely too much? He comes over here even when he knows our daughter isn't home. The young man has an apartment of his own, but he has started coming here straight from work every afternoon. My wife has her routine housework to do and she doesn't feel comfortable going about it with him in the house. He's a good-hearted fellow, and we don't want to hurt his feelings, but we don't think we should have to entertain him when our daughter isn't home. So how do we tell him?

Dear Stumped: Either the young man has been made to feel that he is welcome any time or he is taking too much for granted. And your daughter is the one who should do it.

Dear Abby: Several months ago I entrusted an important letter and some valuable literary material to a friend of mine, who promised that he would type them up for me. Every time I ask him for the material he makes some excuse. I have written letters to him asking him to return my material, typed or not, but he ignores my letters. Can I accuse him of stealing them and have him arrested? I would like to teach him a lesson.

Gigon picked up his 20th homer of the season in the third inning.

Nichols Is Winner of PGA Tourney

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Bobby Nichols had fallen off a cliff he'd have won the high-diving championship on the way down.

This was the week when he could have gotten down in two strokes from the deck of a sinking ship.

There apparently is no oil in the area of the Columbus Country Club, or Nichols would have struck it with a seven-iron.

Life was like that for Nichols, the 29-year-old Louisville boy who won the PGA Golf Tournament Sunday by three strokes with a record total of 271, nine under par. About 71 of his shots were downright impossible.

"I couldn't believe them myself—but I have witnesses," Nichols said.

The baby-faced youngster, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, finished with an astounding 67 that held off an incredible 64 by defending champion Jack Nicklaus who was playing before the home folks.

Nicklaus made up five strokes on Arnold Palmer in the final round, playing head-to-head with Palmer before an enormous gallery that trooped through the broiling Ohio sunshine. They tied for second, at 274, three strokes back.

That was the best finish yet for Palmer in the PGA, the only major title he has never won—but still no cigar for the general of Arnie's Army.

It made three runner-up finishes this year for Nicklaus in major championships, the Masters, the British Open, and the PGA, and meant that big Jack will not be around for the ultra-rich television world series which he won the last two years.

Minoso Waivered to Indianapolis

CHICAGO (AP)—Veteran outfielder Minnie Minoso, put on waivers earlier in the week by the Chicago White Sox, was signed by Indianapolis of the Pacific Coast League Sunday.

Chance Hurls Third Straight Shutout

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

People can say a lot of things about Dean Chance, but one thing they have to say is he's patriotic.

Chance, 23-year-old pitcher for the Los Angeles Angels, paints the town red, whitewashes the opposition and makes them feel blue.

The ace righthander pitched his third straight shutout and sixth of the season Sunday, as the Angels stopped Minnesota 4-0 for a sweep of their doubleheader and moved into the American League's first division for the first time since the first week of the season. The Angels won the first game 8-6.

Chance, whose nights—and early mornings—on the town with teammate Bo Belinsky threatened to become legend in their time, hasn't allowed a run in 27 innings since he started for the AL in the All-Star Game.

Only Whitey Ford, 12-3, has more shutouts this season. The Yankee veteran has seven, but he has made four more starts than Chance.

Meanwhile, Ford and his New York teammates were the victims of another shutout: Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 28-year-old Cuban righthander, stopped the Yankees 3-0 on four hits in his first major league game. The Yankees won the opener 6-2.

Not so fortunate as Chance as Tiant was Wes Stock, a reliever whose 12-game winning streak was halted by the Chicago White Sox 32 in 13 innings. Stock hadn't lost since July 12, 1962. Chicago also won the second game 4-3, moving into second place, one game behind league-leading Baltimore.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4 while Washington nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings after losing the opener 11-0 in other AL action.

In the National League, Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 4-3 after dropping a 7-4 decision, San Francisco swept Houston 4-2 and 1-0, Milwaukee took Pittsburgh 6-2 and 5-4, Chicago swept Los Angeles 4-2 and 9-1 and New York trimmed St. Louis 3-2 before losing 7-6.

Chance walked one and permitted only one runner past first base in the nightcap. His main support came from Joe Adcock, who slammed two two-run home runs. Lou Clinton homered following Adcock's first blast in the second inning.

Tiant, brought up by the Indians only last Friday, allowed only a bunt single by Tom Tresh in the first five innings. He struck out 11 and walked four as he outpitched Ford. The Yankee southpaw exhibited unusual wildness, walking three Indians in the first inning, the last one forcing in a run.

Clete Boyer and Tresh each drove in two runs in the opener for New York while Roland Sheldon scattered seven hits. Two of the hits were homers by Tito Francona and Larry Brown in the second.

Stock, who had won four games this season, was the victim of a two-run pinch-hit homer by pitcher Gary Peters in the 13th. Peters fouled off pitches attempting to bunt before connecting. Athletics' starter Diego Segui gave up a bunt single in the first, then held the White Sox hitless until he left after walking the leadoff batter in the ninth.

Baltimore got solo homers from Boog Powell, Sam Bowens and Charley Lau in the only single game on the majors' busiest day of the year. Rookie Wally Bunker won his 10th game against two defeats although he needed relief help. Jerry Lumpe, Dick McAuliffe and Bill Freehan homered for the Tigers.

Mike Brunley's two-out single in the 10th inning gave the Senators a second-game victory. Boston scored three runs with the help of three Washington errors, two by Ed Brinkman, who homered and scored the winning run after singling.

Don Lock drove in six Washington runs in the doubleheader with two homers in the opener, two doubles and a single. His first-game hitting was overshadowed by Ed Bressoud's three-run homer, two-run homers by Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla and solo blasts by Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Stuart, all for the Red Sox.

Hole-in-One the Hard Way

CAPTAIN JOHN PATE, OF HOPE, GINGERLY retrieves his ball from the cup after scoring a hole-in-one on the 196 yard second hole of the Stead Air Force Base, Nevada golf course. Witnesses were Capt. Eugene Williams, John R. Cavanaugh and M. Sgt. Dale Nelson.

CAPT. PATE, A HELICOPTER PILOT INSTRUCTOR, was born and raised in Hope and attended Hope High School. His new duty assignment will be with the British Air Force Helicopter School in London England.

Oklahoma State

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Former University of Arkansas football coach Bowden Wyatt will come out of coaching retirement this fall to be an assistant coach at Oklahoma State University.

Head coach Phil Cutchin made the announcement Saturday, and said Wyatt would be used as a defensive coach.

Wyatt, a former All-American at Tennessee, also coached at Wyoming and Tennessee. He had been with a Nashville, Tenn., public relations firm.

Giants Win 2 But Phils Cling to Loop Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Bateman and Johnny Callison played give-and-take with the National League lead but the Milwaukee Braves made their mark playing leap-frog.

Houston catcher Bateman flubbed a two-out third strike in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader against San Francisco and two pitches later Jim Hayt homered for a 4-2 Giants victory.

The Giants also won the nightcap 1-0 and had the league lead in the second game when the Phils Callison took it away from them.

The Phils had dropped their doubleheader opener to Cincinnati 7-4 and were trailing 2-1 in the second game when the Giants-Colts final was posted on the scoreboard.

Then Callison duplicated his All-Star game heroics with a three-run ninth inning homer. The Phils held on for a 4-3 verdict and a first place margin of four percentage points over the Giants.

The torrid Braves trimmed Pittsburgh twice 6-2 and 5-4 and climbed from a tie for sixth place into fourth, six games off the pace.

They now have won 10 of their last 13 games and 16 of their last 22.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs pounded out 27 hits for 8-2 and 9-1 decisions over the Los Angeles Dodgers while St. Louis rallied for four ninth inning runs and edged the New York Mets 7-6 in the second of a pair after the Mets won the opener 3-2.

Baltimore stayed a game in front in the American League with a 5-4 victory over Detroit. The Chicago White Sox climbed into second place by sweeping Kansas City 3-2 in 13 innings and 4-3. The New York Yankees slipped to third, losing the second game of a twin bill to Cleveland 30 after taking the opener 6-2.

The Los Angeles Angels beat Minnesota twice 8-6 and 4-0. Boston outslugged Washington 11-10 before bowing 5-4 in 10 innings.

The Giants had lost five in a row and were tied 22 in the eighth inning of the first game.

With two outs, Colts' pitcher Dick Farrell fanned Orlando Cepeda but the ball eluded Bateman and Cepeda reached first. Hart followed with his 13th homer, a 450-foot wallop to left centerfield.

Willie McCovey beat out a first inning bunt, took second on an error and scored the only run of the second game to Willie Mays' single. Bob Shaw and Billy Pierce put down a Colt rally in the ninth after Rob Hendley had pitched a four-hitter through eight.

Callison's 15th homer, off reliever Bill Henry, followed a single by Clay Dalrymple and a walk to Cookie Rojas. The Reds rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth but Chris Short came out of the bullpen and got Vada Pinson to hit into a game-ending force play.

Pinson's second triple, a single by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich's two-run homer overcame a 4-3 deficit in the eighth inning of the opener.

Frank Bolling drove in three Milwaukee runs with two singles in the first game and Tony Clineberger tossed a six-hitter.

Bolling doubled in two more runs in the nightcap. Hank Fischer relieved starter Denny Lemaster in the sixth inning and blanked the Pirates the rest of the way.

Dick Ellsworth pitched a five-hitter against the Dodgers in the opener and the Cubs collected a dozen hits, including two-run homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

Lew Burdette allowed six hits in the second game and Ron Santo went 3-for-5, including his 17th homer, to lead the 15-hit attack. Burdette, making his 350th NL start, won his sixth game in eight decisions.

Dick Groat's fourth hit of the second game scored Ken Boyer with the winning run and capped the Cardinals' ninth inning explosion. Boyer had doubled home Lou Brock for a 6-6 tie.

All three Met runs in the opener were unearned. Jack Fisher scattered eight hits for the victory.

Shorty

A Short Short Story © 1964 by NEA, Inc. DICTION IS LIKE THAT

By Rusty Steels

Connie spoke with an accent. It sounded Dixie, but not entirely. It was different. It puzzled people who heard it. Most especially the accent was strange to the people who interviewed her at the University.

"What part of the South are you from?" Miss Peggy, the registrar, asked Connie.

"I'm not from the South at all, not really. I was born right here in Wisconsin."

"I thought I detected a slight southern accent," Miss Peggy said.

"O dear, am I talking like that again? That's the Jackson coming out in me."

"The Jackson?"

"Yes," Connie took a deep breath and began to explain. "You see, I was born in Merrill, but I went to Florida when I was two. My father was transferred there. Of course, that's the age when you learn to talk, and by the time I got back here to school, I talked Florida Dixie. I still have the letter the principal wrote; my father and I quote: 'the child seems bright enough, but she has great difficulty in pronouncing her words. We are giving her lessons with our speech therapist twice a week.'"

"That accounts for it then," said the registrar.

"Well, not entirely. After several years up here, they seemed satisfied with my good Yankee talk, but when I went on to school in New York I studied drama. The diction teacher was a pipe-chewing, tweedsuited Englishman who used to stand me up in front of the class to demonstrate how not to say things. He would make me say over and over:

"They had to carry Harry to the ferry

And the ferry carried Harry to the shore

The reason they had to carry Harry to the ferry

Was Harry couldn't carry any morrie."

"Trill the rrr's." He would say. "Trill the rrr's."

"Well, after I got so I could really trill the rrr's and leave them off at the ends of words like theatah, I came home."

"Trilling the rrr's?"

"Yes, indeed!"

"What happened then?"

"Well, in the upstate college they didn't trill rrr's, but by this time I couldn't help it. However, they assured me that their speech department could correct it in no time."

"Did they?"

"Yes, they did, but it was there that I met Jackson. He was from Georgia. So when he said, 'Sugar, I want to take you home with me for Christmas and show you off to my parents and to my town; but could you just tone down your Yankee accent?' My folks still fight the Civil War."

"That's when you started talking like Jackson?"

"Oh, yes. That was me originally, Florida at two, you know."

"Did it fool Jackson's folks?"

"No, it didn't. I was a damyankee in one word to them, and they took him out of our college to get him away from me."

"So you've decided to come to Wisconsin?"

"Yes. That's what I've decided to do."

"Now what do you wish to major in?"

A tall, young man with black hair and a golden tan strode into the room. His voice was as low and sweet as the breeze across a moonlit lake.

"Miss Peggy, here is the list of my students that you requested." Little smile wrinkles showed around his dark eyes. He placed the list on her desk and left.

"Who was that?" Connie asked. "That is our diction coach for our drama course."

"Oh." She looked in the direction that he had gone and absent minded tucked her blue sweater into the band that encircled her tiny waist.

"Now let's see, what did you say you wished to major in this year?"

"Well," Connie stopped and looked shyly out the corner of her eyes, "as I was saying, since I have so much trouble with my diction I feel that I should major in diction, I mean drama."

"Diction, yes, there's an opening left." She entered Connie's name, then stood up. "The class is just starting."

Connie felt very happy. At last she felt sure that she would get Jackson out of her mind and out of her heart. They walked briskly down the hall. When they

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Beatles are a big hit in their first movie—critics call them the new Marx brothers—and no one is happier than movie composer David Rose.

Rose is a serious musician noted for his lush use of strings. Until the Beatles' reviews came out, Rose thought maybe he had approached music from the wrong direction.

"I went up to my teen-age daughter's room the other day," he says. "The walls were plastered with pictures of the Beatles."

"There were no pictures of me. Worse, there were none of my albums in her record collection. What does a father do in a situation like that?"

"I'm glad the Beatles are successful as movie stars. Maybe now they'll get out of the music business."

Oddly, Rose's biggest hit was an out-of-character number as noisy as the Beatles.

"When MGM made 'Sweet Bird of Youth,' with Paul Newman and Geraldine Page a few years ago, the song 'Ebb Tide' was used as background music," he said.

"MGM Records asked me to record it, which I did. It was expected to be a hit. It wasn't, but the other side of the record is my all-time big seller—'The Stripper.'"

How that came about is one of those showbusiness mistakes that bummer into big money.

"After 'Ebb Tide,' Rose recalls, 'I had to leave the country for awhile. The company wanted the record on the market fast so somebody—I later heard it was an office boy—went through some of my old tapes for a fill-in recording for the flip side."

"The 'Stripper' was some background music had composed for a television show of the old play 'Burlesque.' I had forgotten about it. The office boy liked it and put it on the other side of 'Ebb Tide.' It's still selling and my last figure had it past the three-million mark."

"Isn't it ironic that I, who had made a reputation with strings, should get my greatest fame from some honky-tonk, brassy, loud, drum-beating song?"

"Maybe the Beatles have the right idea after all."

Professionals Credited With Market Rise

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Emotion or computers? What is sending the stock market averages up—hunches or cold calculations?

For two straight weeks all three of the Dow-Jones averages—30 industrials, 20 railroads, 15 utilities—have made new highs. This is the first time since 1929 that all three have set records in any one year.

Is it the economic outlook? Is it political excitement and predictions? And who is making this market—the average stock holder or the pros?

The professionals get most of the credit, but what makes them tick? Many think that calculation is the clue to the stock market behavior today, even more than ever.

The tradition is that insiders with all the tips and prior knowledge can calculate how this or that stock or the market in general will react to any foreseeable set of events.

More recently the notion has grown that the big investors—a comparatively few well-heeled individuals, but even more the pension funds and other institutions—do the cold reasoning and buy or sell more or less in unison.

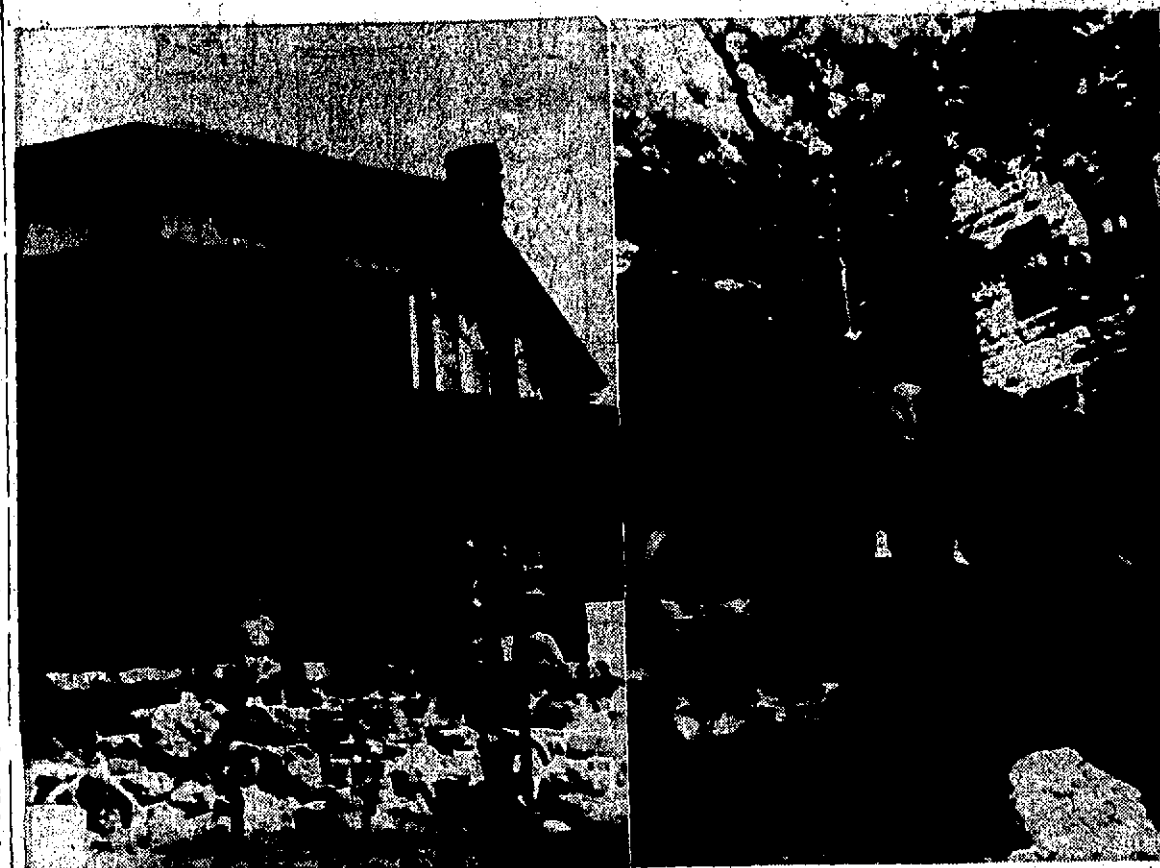

But veterans on Wall Street warn against this easy view of the market.

They point out that there are now estimated to be 17 million or more Americans holding stocks, each a potential buyer or seller. Most of them may be long to the odd lotteries, the ones who trade in less than 100 shares at a time.

Pros tend to look down their noses at oddlotters as always wrong. Maybe they are, but they aren't without influence on stock price trends—such as the summer rally now intriguing the watchers of the stock market scene.

And pros are people, too. The institutional investors may seem impersonal, but individuals make the investing decisions. Right now is it emotion or calculation that determines?

Currently the force seems to be predominately bullish.

Friday the market saw 435 shares advance and 432. The popular averages were always impressive.

The record high set Friday by the Dow-Jones industrials was 851.35, compared with a 1964 low of 766.08. The rails advanced to a record 220.98, an even more impressive advance from the 1964 low of 178.81. The industrials, also fairly steadily climbing from the year's low of 137.30, reached a record 148.25.

The Friday climb of all three duplicated that of the week before when they also set new highs.

The general economy is booming, politics can influence individual traders, tradition calls for a summer rally in stock prices. All of these add up to cold calculation as to the course of stock prices.

But don't forget that other thing—the emotion which can work in short gusts (as on the day President Kennedy was killed) or in long cycles. In concentration it can be irresistible—and maybe right, maybe wrong.

Convicted Wife Slayer Gets Married

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, happy in his freedom from prison and in his new marriage, faced the future today with hope and fear.

He and his bride of two days, the former Ariane Tebbenhahn, a German divorcee, made arrangements to fly to New York City. She said they would have interviews there, but she didn't go into detail.

"We cannot make any plans," she told a newsman. "We'll stay available. Perhaps by Wednesday Dr. Sam will have to go back to the penitentiary."

But Dr. Sheppard and his attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said they expected the physician to remain out of prison, where he served almost nine years for slaying his first wife, Marilyn, in 1954.

Sheppard walked out of the penitentiary Thursday on the order of a federal judge who ruled he did not have a fair trial.

The next step in the case will be taken Wednesday. A three-judge panel of the 6th U.S. Court of Appeals will decide whether Sheppard shall remain free on $10,000 bond while the state of Ohio appeals the order which freed him.

Dr. Sheppard, 40, and the 35-year-old blonde he married Saturday dined with friends in their honeymoon hotel Sunday and received telephone calls from others.

He spoke of teaching or doing other non-medical work until his license to practice medicine is restored. Or, his new wife suggested, he could do administrative work in his family's clinic in Bay Village, Ohio. They plan to live in Rocky River, another community in the Cleveland area.

While obviously happy, Dr. Sheppard told a reporter he is living "under a shadow of rearrest and retrial."

But he also said: "I do not expect to be sent back to prison." Bailey, Boston attorney who became interested in the case in 1961 and who helped Sheppard gain his freedom, was more positive.

"I'm satisfied beyond any doubt whatsoever that Sam won't go back at all," he told a reporter.

The 52nd Artillery Group and the 6th Battalion, 16th Artillery, left earlier in the week.

The post will be closed by June 1965 in a Defense Department economy cutback.

Thinks Riots Will Help Goldwater

LONDON (AP)—British news papers said today the violence in Harlem holds grave dangers for the United States. One said it may carry Sen. Barry Goldwater to the White House.

"America could be on the verge of something really frightful," said the conservative Daily Sketch.

"Every flareup in Harlem, every petty punchup between Negroes and whites that happens to rate a paragraph this summer will almost certainly mean more bitter, frightened votes for Goldwater."

"Every Sunday like yesterday, in Harlem or anywhere else, increases the possibility that Barry Goldwater will move into the White House in January."

Daily Express correspondent David English wrote from New York: "Now there is just heat and dirt, anger and fury in Harlem."

Hella Pick, New York correspondent of the Guardian, cabled that "the country's more responsible Negro leadership is worried."

"Their problem remains: how to prevent violence within their own ranks. They more than anyone else are aware that every act of violence from the Negro side is one more vote for the now hated enemy, Sen. Goldwater."

President Truman and his family lived in Blair House from 1949 to 1952 while the interior of the White House was being rebuilt.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 52 (Legislative)

"SECTION 1. The General Assembly shall have the power to provide by general laws for the establishment and operation (a) of industrial districts for the purpose of securing and developing industry, and (b) of hospital districts for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, reconstructing or extending hospitals. "SECTION 2. Provided, however, there shall never be levied a tax on the taxable real and personal property; (a) of any industrial district which, together with any tax levied under the provisions of Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution, shall exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof; or (b) of any hospital district, which, together with any tax levied under the provisions of Amendment No. 17 to the Constitution, shall exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof, except that, the full said five (5) mills being levied under Amendment No. 17, the said hospital district may levy an additional tax of not to exceed one (1) mill on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in said hospital district. Provided further, that the total taxes levied under this Amendment and under Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution on the taxable real and personal property in an industrial district shall never exceed five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof, and the total taxes levied under this Amendment and under Amendment No. 17 to the Constitution on the taxable real and personal property in any hospital district shall never exceed six (6) mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation thereof."

"SECTION 3. To such extent and in such manner as the General Assembly may provide, taxes collected under Amendment No. 32 to the Constitution on the taxable real and personal property in any hospital district shall be used for maintaining, operating and supporting district hospitals."
